

Design Brief — Wizkoo and Learnkoo Brand Asset System

To: Clara From: Amy Oguntala Date: May 12, 2026

Hi Clara,

Thank you for being open to talking about this project. I want to send you everything you need to think it through and give me a quote.

Please read this brief slowly. If anything is not clear, please ask me. I would rather answer many small questions now than have you guess. There are no bad questions.

This brief has seven parts:

1. The two brands
 2. What I want you to build (full scope and exact layouts)
 3. What I want you to decide (creative direction)
 4. How I like to work
 5. File formats I need
 6. Delivery in three phases
 7. What I need from you to give me a quote

1. The two brands

I have two brands. They are owned by the same company but they look completely different. They cannot share colors. They cannot share fonts. They cannot share the logo. The two brands are separate worlds.

Brand 1 — Wizkoo. A paid product. Parents pay every month for personalized homeschool learning plans for their children. The colors, fonts, logo, and wordmark are already locked.

Brand 2 — Learnkoo. A free online magazine for homeschool parents. Like a blog. No subscription, no paywall — anyone can read it. The colors are locked but the rest is open for you to design. The audience is parents aged 25 to 35. It cannot look feminine. It cannot look masculine. It must feel neutral and welcoming to any homeschool parent. Think modern editorial magazine. Trustworthy and clean. Not playful, not cute, not corporate-cold.

2. What I want you to build (full scope and exact layouts)

I want one designer to build the entire brand asset system for both brands. That is why I am sharing the full picture with you now. I would rather have all of this done by the same person at the same time so it feels unified, than commission it piece by piece from different designers later.

For each template type below, I am telling you the exact layouts I want. This is the structure — what goes where. The visual craft is yours — typography hierarchy, spacing, exact sizes, decorative choices, color treatment within the locked palette. You are the designer. I am telling you the architecture, you are bringing the art.

The work is split into three phases by priority. Phase 1 is what I need first. Phase 2 is next. Phase 3 is last. You will tell me how long each phase takes — see Part 6.

PHASE 1 — highest priority, I need this first

Wizkoo Pinterest pins — 5 layouts (2:3 vertical, 1000 x 1500 pixels):

1. Headline-dominant — one bold statement fills most of the pin
2. Split layout — image or color block on top half, text on bottom half (or reversed)
3. List format — numbered structure ("3 ways to," "5 things")
4. Pull-quote — short quote treated as the hero element
5. Cover style — looks like a magazine cover with masthead and headline

Wizkoo Pinterest board covers — 5 to 10 designs (square, 1000 x 1000 pixels) — branded cover images for the Pinterest boards I will organize content into. I will give you the exact list of boards once you start.

Learnkoo creative direction approval — first step before anything else. Show me 1 to 2 sample templates that prove the look and feel for Learnkoo. I approve your direction before you build the rest. This is the most important step for Learnkoo.

Learnkoo Pinterest pins — 5 layouts (built after I approve the creative direction):

Same 5 layouts as Wizkoo above (headline-dominant, split, list format, pull-quote, cover style). Each layout needs to work across 5 different color treatments (one for each Learnkoo content category). I will explain the 5 categories and their colors in the files I send.

Learnkoo Pinterest board covers — 5 to 10 designs (square, 1000 x 1000 pixels) — branded cover images for the Pinterest boards I will organize Learnkoo content into.

Profile avatar set for both brands — one square avatar per platform: Pinterest, Instagram, TikTok, YouTube, Substack. Optimized to read clearly at small sizes.

PHASE 2 — second priority

Instagram single image — 3 layouts per brand (square, 1080 x 1080 pixels):

1. Statement — single bold sentence on color background
2. Visual quote — short quote with attribution
3. Question or prompt — open question to the reader

Instagram carousel — 3 layouts per brand (square, 1080 x 1080 pixels, multi-frame):

1. List carousel — frame 1 is the cover with the topic, frames 2 onward each cover one point
2. Story arc — sequential narrative across frames
3. Before/after or comparison — two-state structure

Instagram story — 3 layouts per brand (vertical, 1080 x 1920 pixels):

1. Announcement — single message, vertical orientation
2. Poll or question prompt — with space for an interactive element
3. Behind-the-scenes — image area with overlay text

Instagram Reels cover — 3 layouts per brand (vertical, 1080 x 1920 pixels, designed for 1:1 grid crop):

1. Title card — bold headline only
2. Question hook — provocative question as the cover
3. Visual hook — image area with overlay text

Instagram story highlight cover icons — 8 to 10 per brand (square, 1080 x 1080 pixels) — the small round icons that appear above the grid on Instagram profiles. Each highlight category gets its own branded cover icon. I will give you the list of categories once you start.

TikTok cover image — 3 layouts per brand (vertical, 1080 x 1920 pixels):

1. Title card — bold headline only
2. Question hook — provocative question as the cover
3. Number or stat hook — a number or statistic as the cover

Facebook page header — 1 design per brand (820 x 312 pixels, with safe zone for mobile crop)

YouTube channel banner — 1 design per brand (2560 x 1440 pixels, with safe zone for mobile and TV crops)

YouTube thumbnail templates — 3 layouts per brand (1280 x 720 pixels):

1. Headline-dominant — bold text fills most of the thumbnail

2. Question hook — provocative question as the hero
3. Split layout — image area and text area divided

Substack publication assets for Learnkoo:

- 1 publication logo
- 1 publication banner
- 5 section header images (one for each Learnkoo content category — the categories will be explained in the files I send)
- Featured image template — 3 layouts (1456 x 816 pixels) for use at the top of individual Learnkoo articles. Same layout structure as Pinterest pins (headline-dominant, split layout, pull-quote).

Email signature graphics:

- 1 for Wizkoo emails
 - 1 for Learnkoo emails

PHASE 3 — third priority

Newsletter email header — 1 design per brand (600 pixels wide, you choose the height)

Newsletter section dividers and accent graphics for Learnkoo — 3 to 5 different small visual elements that go between sections of the Learnkoo newsletter so it does not look like generic email

Wizkoo one-pager / sell sheet template — 1 editable PDF template I can drop content into to send to schools, vendors, and partners

Wizkoo pitch deck / presentation template — master slide templates for investor meetings, vendor applications, and speaking engagements. 6 master slide types:

1. Title slide
2. Section divider slide
3. Content slide (text-heavy)
4. Content slide (data or chart)
5. Content slide (image-heavy)
6. Closing slide

Wizkoo icon and favicon set:

- 1 favicon (the small icon that appears in the browser tab)

- 8 to 12 custom UI icons in the Wizkoo style (I will give you the exact list — common ones like home, search, profile, settings, save, share, plus a few brand-specific ones)

Learnkoo icon and favicon set — same as above for Learnkoo

3. What I want you to decide (creative direction)

Wizkoo — what is LOCKED (do not change)

- Colors:
 - Warm Chalk ( #F8F4E9) (cream background)
 - Deep Ultramarine ( #0C1020) (dark navy, almost black)
 - Saffron Gold ( #E8AF38) (warm yellow accent)
- Logo (orbital symbol): locked. Use it as-is.
- Wordmark (the word "Wizkoo"): locked. Use it as-is.
- Fonts: Fraunces (display headlines), Sora (body text)
- Signature element: constellation patterns (small star clusters used as subtle decoration)

Wizkoo — what I want you to decide

1. Where the logo lives on every template. The logo must appear on every single Wizkoo template. 100% of the time. No exceptions. But where it sits — top left, top right, bottom left, bottom right, center, or as a subtle background mark — that is your call. Pick the placement that looks best and be consistent across all Wizkoo templates so the brand feels unified.
2. When to use the wordmark. The wordmark appears on about half of the templates. You decide which templates show the wordmark and which only show the logo. Use your judgment based on what looks balanced and clean.
3. How the logo and wordmark sit together when both are used. When a template uses both the logo AND the wordmark, you decide the arrangement. Side by side, stacked, logo above wordmark below — show me your recommendation.
4. All visual craft within each layout — typography hierarchy, font sizes, spacing, decorative use of constellation patterns, exact color treatment.

Learnkoo — what is LOCKED (do not change)

- Colors:
 - Cream ( #FAF6EF) (background — always cream, never white)
 - Tomato ( #E26A4E) (warm red-orange, the strongest accent)
 - Pink ( #C97870) (warm dusty pink)

- Yellow (🟡 #F5E27A) (soft yellow)
- Blue (🟡 #6B95C5) (calm medium blue)
- Warm Brown (🟡 #2D2218) (used for text on cream and yellow backgrounds)

Each color is tied to a content category in the magazine. I will explain which color goes with which category in the files I send. Do not change those color-to-category pairings.

Learnkoo — what I want you to decide (full creative direction within the colors above)

1. Everything else. Wordmark or no wordmark, logo or no logo, fonts, decorative elements, hierarchy. All of it is yours within the layouts I specified.
 2. You can propose a different color palette only if you find something clearly better for an editorial magazine aimed at a 25 to 35 year old homeschool parent that feels gender-neutral. If you have a strong opinion, send me one alternative palette with your reasoning. I will look at it. I am not promising I will pick it, but I am open if you find something great.

4. How I like to work

I want to tell you how I work before you quote, so you can build the right amount of time into your price.

- I am very visual. I make decisions by seeing options, not by reading descriptions. I need to see things before I can tell you yes or no.
 - For each major piece, I want to see 2 or 3 directions first before you build the full set. For example, for Wizkoo Pinterest pins, I want to see 2 or 3 different visual directions for one layout, pick the one I like, and then have you apply that direction to all 5 layouts.
 - I will tell you what I like, what I do not like, and where to go next. I am direct but I am kind. I want this to feel like a real collaboration.
 - Expect a few rounds of feedback for each major piece. Please build that into your timeline and your price. I want you to be paid fairly for the back-and-forth.
 - For Learnkoo specifically, the creative direction approval is the most important step. I need to see and approve your look and feel before you build the full Learnkoo set. We will not move past that step until we both feel good about the direction.

5. File formats I need

For social media and email templates, I need two formats:

1. Adobe Illustrator files (.ai) — the master source files. These are the original work. I keep these forever.
2. Canva templates — the working version my team uses to build posts every week. The Canva templates should have:
 - Editable text fields (so my team can change the words)
 - Locked logo, wordmark, and color elements (so my team cannot accidentally break the brand)
 - Clear naming for each template (so my team can find what they need fast)

You build in Illustrator first, then bring the work into Canva as editable templates. I will give you access to my Canva Pro account so you can upload directly into my brand kits.

For the pitch deck: I need PowerPoint or Keynote master slide files instead of Canva.

For the one-pager: I need an editable PDF (and the Illustrator source).

For icons and favicons: I need SVG and PNG exports in addition to the Illustrator source.

6. Delivery in three phases

I broke the work into three groups based on priority. Phase 1 is what I need first. Phase 2 is what I need next. Phase 3 is what I need last.

I am not giving you a timeline. You are giving me one. I want you to tell me how long each phase will take. Assume you are working on this project consistently, not in spare time between other clients. I would like you to be honest about how fast you can move on the full body of work.

Phase 1 priority: Wizkoo Pinterest pins and board covers, Learnkoo creative direction approval, Learnkoo Pinterest pins and board covers (after approval), profile avatar sets for both brands.

Phase 2 priority: Instagram templates (single, carousel, story, Reels cover, story highlight icons), TikTok covers, Facebook headers, YouTube banners and thumbnail templates, Substack publication assets and featured image templates for Learnkoo, email signatures.

Phase 3 priority: Newsletter email headers, newsletter dividers and accents for Learnkoo, Wizkoo one-pager template, Wizkoo pitch deck, icon and favicon sets for both brands.

Payment will follow the phases. One third of the total price after each phase is delivered and approved. Three equal payments. This is fair to both of us — you get paid as you deliver, and I pay as I receive work I have approved.

7. What I need from you to give me a quote

When you reply, please send me:

1. Your total price for the full project — all three phases together. The whole scope.
 2. A confirmed timeline. When can you deliver Phase 1? When can you deliver Phase 2? When can you deliver Phase 3?
 3. Samples of past work in two areas:
 - Social media templates or brand kits you have built before
 - Icon and favicon sets you have built before (this helps me see if your icon style is what I am looking for)
 4. Any questions you have about this brief. Please ask. If something is not clear, I want to know now, before you start.

A few last things

- English is your second language and that is completely fine. If any part of this brief is hard to understand, tell me which part and I will rewrite it more simply. I want you to feel confident about what I am asking before you quote.
- Ask questions any time during the project. Not just now. If you start the Pinterest pins and something is unclear, message me. I will answer.
- Quality matters more than speed. I would rather wait one extra day for great work than get fast work that is only okay. But I do want this project moving consistently — please give me a timeline you can hold to.
- Your creative voice matters. I saw your work and I trust your eye. I am telling you the architecture so we both know what we are building. The art is yours.

I am looking forward to seeing your quote and hearing what you think.

Amy
